79th IAPMO Conference to be Held in the Big Peach, Atlanta

Ontario, Calif. (Aug. 4, 2008) — The International Association of Plumbing and Mechanical Officials (IAPMO) raises the bar each year with its annual conference, renowned for offering industry-leading educational opportunities. This year promises to be even bigger and better than ever, with top-notch seminars and workshops planned throughout the week, as well as access to the ISH North America Kitchen and Bath show.

IAPMO's 79th Annual Education and Business Conference will be held Sept. 28 – Oct. 3 at the recently expanded Sheraton Atlanta in the heart of downtown Atlanta. This year, IAPMO welcomes keynote speaker Jim Morris, the real-life inspiration for the Disney hit baseball film "The Rookie." Conference-goers can also look forward to extended education, countless networking opportunities and a critically important role in the development of the 2009 versions of the Uniform Plumbing Code and Uniform Mechanical Code.

Running simultaneously at the nearby Georgia World Congress Center is the bi-annual ISH North America show, featuring a trade show and a multitude of educational seminars.

Come see why IAPMO's Annual Education and Business Conference is the event of choice for plumbing and mechanical professionals. Registration is available online at <http://publications.iapmo.org/conference2008/>.
