Founded in 1906 by then District of Columbia Chief Plumbing Inspector Henry B. Davis, ASSE is one of the oldest plumbing organizations in the United States. Qualified candidates will possess knowledge of leadership and management principles as they relate to associations and an understanding of ethical business practices and behavior. Knowledge about industry codes and standards and the processes used to develop them, product and personnel certification programs, and budget preparation and implementation skills is essential.

Candidates must be available to start on May 1, 2013.

Interested individuals may submit their résumé, including salary expectations, to the attention of Gabriella Davis, senior director of Worldwide Operations, at The IAPMO Group, 4755 E.
