IAPMO R&T Enjoys Successful Showing at WQA Aquatech USA 2015

Las Vegas (April 30, 2015) – IAPMO R&T, North America's premier third party testing and certification body for plumbing, mechanical and water treatment products, last week concluded the WQA Aquatech USA 2015 show in Las Vegas, the largest trade event in the United States for point-of-use and point-of-entry water treatment equipment, bringing together water treatment manufacturers, dealers, regulators, wholesalers, plumbers, and custom builders for residential and commercial water treatment applications. The show was co-located with the National Automatic Merchandising Association (NAMA) and the International Carwash Association.

IAPMO R&T introduced the launch of its Water Systems product certification program. This program will provide testing and certification services to the water treatment industry. The IAPMO R&T booth was busy as representatives promoted a comprehensive menu of product testing and conformity assessment services. Prospective clients learned about the marketing advantage and code compliance achieved by procuring third-party product certification through IAPMO R&T.

IAPMO R&T is accredited by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) in the United States, the Standards Council of Canada (SCC) in Canada, and entidad Mexicana de acreditacion, a.c. (ema) in Mexico. The IAPMO Group also offers testing and certification services globally, with offices strategically positioned on five continents. IAPMO R&T's certification marks of conformity carry the organization's more than 70-year reputation for integrity and accountability and are readily recognized throughout North America.

"WQA Aquatech was a huge success for IAPMO R&T," said Tom Palkon, a senior vice president with IAPMO R&T. "It provided an exceptional platform to introduce our testing and certification services to water treatment equipment manufacturers."

WQA Aquatech 2016 will be held in Nashville. For more information, direct your web browser to WQA.org.
